The ederous breath of this meraing time:
'I's an authem of love
To the Father above.
A wandering strain from the heavenly clime.

The faint, cool breezes of southern lands Steal softly by in melodious bands;

They fetter my soal
In their dramy control,
And dim; le my hair with their tender hand

The corn peeps out from its silken plume,

Like primroses, ere thny burst in bloom
From the folded lid
Of their prishing bid,
And sive to the aven sweet perfame.

The sweet rose tanderly holdeth np Lie tragrant lips from his dow-brimmed of Willia thared ennight, With his where bright, Islading with blusbes each shining drop

I a onder if out in the gravayard new

To breatha its sweets on the grava belo-

I wonder if thrushes a ill melt the sales

As their soft wings wava
Over mother's grave,
Where the south breeze, quivering faintly,

Yes; the sweet rose droops, sill its fragrant head Rests teuderly over the silent dead, And tha minist-throng Weaves a sweeter song Where mother is monrafully, softly laid.

Interesting Discoveries in Africa .- Captoins arton and Soeke, the intrapid and ecientific Eng lish trevelers, says the London Examiner, conquering a thousand difficulties, succeeded in penetrating he African continent between latitudes four end eight degrees south, to the depth of 600 miles, over land that the foot of an European never trod before. The most remarkable discoveries thay made consisted of two vast fresh weter lakes, those of Ujiji and Nyanza, the bare axistenes of the first of which only had been known, while that of the latter, hy far the largest, had not even been suspected. We shell contina our notice to the Take Nyarza, as the most important. It was found to be 3,700 feet times blaher than the lake of Geneva. Its breadth was estimated from 40 to 90 miles, and length conjectured at 300, which would give it an erea equal to that of two-thirds of Ireland. This mighty inland sea Is conjectured by Captain Speke to be the troe and long sought for source of the Nile, a question which has puzzled civilized men for 2,000 year

Of the country and people seem by our enterpr ing travelers, we have but few would to say. The land is evidently less favored by nature than that of the wastern elde of the continent, and the regroes are physically and perhaps even ment his in-ferior. The eastern side possesses to navigable river leading to the see, ne does the we S. G. Henry & Co.,

The reading to the see, no does the western, nor has it the gold nor the velocity of the less, nor the set, nor the set grain of rice, the unain careal of the tro, les, is grown by the rude and stupid inhabitants. The only veluable product is collee, etdl, however, in e wild stete only. This is a peculiar indigenous plant in this part of Africa, although we call it Arablan, cause we first derived it in its cultivated etate from that country.

The common fowl and oxen, the latter used only for their flesh and small milk, but not for labor, are the only animals which have been domesticated. The horse is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy ass, the note is unknown, and so is the hardy as a state of the note is unknown, and the art of weary ing a fabric of corresponding quality is understood. So is the art of making malleable iron, the highest streirh of negro civilization in this part of Africa. Leiters are unknown to the negroes of the eastern coast, as indeed they are to all African negroes. The stiple exports consist of the bodies of the inhabitants in bondage, and of the tasks of slaughtered alephants. The imports correspond in value. It would be but to deceive the public to promise a beneficial commerce with such a country end such a people.

DISORDER IN LOUISIANA. — Vigilance Committees have been formed in several parishee in Louisiana State lina. What exigencies in public affairs should render more the substants of the propose of the interest and of the season to be strainly all that exceptions help to trailly in support of the lawe. A Vigilance Committee is elso been formed at Napoleco, Ark, the substants after the new of the soft of the propose in the substants after the new of the season of the

What exigencies In public affirs should render such proceedings necessary, does not clearly eppear, except es indicated in the following peregraph:

The Vigilance Committee of Napoleon, Ark, have adopted violent measures to rid thair to wn of suspected gamblers. The Memphis Enquirer of the 4th isarns from a gentleman jest acrived on the Janois Whipple, that night before last a young man nemed John Lewi, who was cloud leaving popo the boat, was attacked at the moment he amerged from his botel, etailbed, killed, and his body thrown into the river. O'e of his companions was short as, but he saved his life by runring to e boat that was lying below the town and hiding himefel upon har. Lewis in from Cincinnal, where he has a mather and sistere residing.

Some further expianction is efforded by the following extract from the botth for the latter of the side of the cight rord, though the average yield of our farme is disubsibleg—there of the sort, is and the side of the cight rord, then he are no knowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, though he has no a honowledge of the cight rord, therefore, is for the cight rord, the cight rord, therefore, is an to what conditioned and whether the challenge of the cight rord, the cight rord, therefore, is for the cight rord, the cight rord, have a not make the counter and the counter in the coil of the nice and the counter in the coil was not what counter in the coil was not want to a support the cight rord, and the counter in the coil was not want to want th

Napolaon, situated at the confluence of three rivers, is naturally an excellent rendezvone for vagabout; heree our citizen are continually annoyad with their presence, and the city authorities, not possessing the requisite police force, have failed to enforce the lawa, and the citizens, in their united straight, have take the matter into their own hands, and will kno doubt, make Napoleon a very ntheil by place for this class of 'gaenty.'

"At the time our informant le't all was confusion, and e desperate encounter was anticipated."
We cannot hat believe that this raport is exaggerated. The Amnesty bill quieted ell difficulties in Southern Kansas, and the disposition of all parties was to live on terms of pasce and friendship with one another. Nor do we believe that any man or set of men would assume the respensibility of rathlessly breaking that "reign or order" mader which Sonthern Kansas has prospered so greatly. That there has been some trouble, is evident, but we renew our hope that it may have been of slight importance—Learenworth Times, Avg 15th.

minds from such painful suspense, and eaving the waste of so much time and nioney in such fruitless searches. We had no power to remove her against her will, ever, had we desured to do so; and again I ask why were we kept thus in ignorance?

Sie was, at Toledo, kept informed by the priests, her correspondents of all that pawed here as togards our searches for her. They therefore knew our movements, and the deep and painful awaisty we were enfering. They must then have known that, when Mrs. Sarr and I commanded visiting the numerica and the clerxy to find our child, we state costinuity and most publicly to biblopypriests, superieures of convents, nuns, everybody to whom we salks. that our anxiety was simply to discover where she was, and if we found her la a convent wall, and happy to remain there, we would not see one world to dissonade her from her plans, but leave her in the convent of life if she plansed to remain there; and that wa would, while she remained there, held no communication with her that we did not oppose her becoming a Catholic but was knew sha was too feelide and delicate to perform the ardnoned noties of the invertenced.

Now, with all this plain and decided ananouncement on our pair, we ware still for several weeks longer kept in ignorance respecting our child. These facial cased no comment from ma.

diearm, the Emperor of the Franch resolved to give to the fifty or seventy-five thousand men of the Italian army, who were to make their entry in Paris on the 15th of Angust, a dinner, as a consolation or a mark of acknowledgement. The dinner was to be given in the Park of St. Cloud at five fraces a basel, furnished by the entrepreneurs of weddings and banquets. The New York Express remarks:

at length 1988 fee. The veinminous correspondence in relation to the matter, stready made public, is now followed by a statement from Miss Starr beresilf, which appears in the Montreal Herald of Thursday, and upon which the editor remarks as follows:

Thursday, and upon which the editor remarks as follows:

Thewhere we publish under Miss Starr's own signature, the facts connected with her flight from her father's reside ce. The reader who has pursued the whole controversy will percause that it set is the father of the matter, and the matter and the Fuperure and the Pope—and it incumbent as them to publish statement explanatory of the coarse. Such a state of things is consolatory to it lover of freedom, and is a step in the advance the power of mind over force, and must revene beneficially to the cause of freedom the weeff of the following A FERRISE PRIGIT.—A lady was coming down the street in all the glory of all to large, flounces, and steel boops. A dag was running across the street, in all the agonies of treachercus annaage meat, seasoned with strychnise. Just as the dag reached the lady, a paroxysm came on, and he rolted to the feet. With a cry of terror she jumped asida, but, ob! misfortune! in a convulviva movement the unfavthmate cur but sived the lawer here.
